REPORT OF NATIONAL π DAY CELEBRATION:

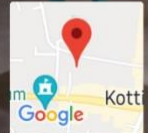

On National π Day, which falls on March 14 every year, mathematicians all across the world commemorate the constant π . π , the ratio of any circle's circumference to its diameter, is one of the world's oldest and most well-known mathematical constants. It has a value of about 3.14159265. It is an irrational number, meaning that it cannot be stated as a ratio of whole numbers and that its decimal representation never stops or repeats.

Department of Mathematics and IQAC of the college jointly organised an exhibition as part of the national π day celebration. Students prepared working models and charts, also they decorated the Mathematics department using these exhibits. The best exhibits were selected and given prizes to encourage the students. AL AMEEN.A – I BA ECONOMICS (Best working model first position), Fathima.M – II BA ECONOMICS (Best working model second position), SNEHA SURESH – I B.Sc PHYSICS (Chart first position), THANIMA. A –II B.Sc PHYSICS (Chart second position). Also, a food stall was organised as part of π day celebrations with circle-shaped food items. Students from different departments participated in these programmes and enjoyed them immensely.
